Festival Earth

Saturday, May 6th, 2017

11:00am - 2:00pm

Morristown Town Hall

200 South St., Morristown, NJ

Earth Day is not the only time to celebrate the planet. Festival Earth is a collaboration of area corporations, local businesses, nonprofit organizations, governmental agencies, and schools to promote the people, planet, and prosperity of the Morristown community. We are receiving an interesting group of participants, exhibitors, and vendors. Past years have included: Sustainable Living Expo, Presentation Stage, Arts Showcase, Farmers' Market, Hybrid – Electric Auto Show, Healthy Foods Pavilion, Valet Bike Parking, and much more. The Sustainable Living Expo featured vendors and exhibits ranging from hydroponic gardens to solar energy and holistic wellness. Dozens of booths will be set up this year around the Vail Mansion Green to showcase things like sustainable agriculture, food, transportation, wellness, and energy solutions, and electric cars.

Point Pleasant Beach Grand Prix
Friday, May 19th, 2017– Sunday, May 21st, 2017
Friday 11:00am – 9:00pm
Saturday 11:00am – 7:00pm
Sunday 10:00am – 7:00pm
Boardwalk
300 Ocean Ave, Point Pleasant Beach, NJ

Point Pleasant Beach rekindled a love affair that many had thought had long been over and the Shore resort is putting on a four-day event to celebrate. After a 34-year separation of sorts followed by a long, drawn out breakup, the town is back to hosting the Offshore Grand Prix - the Daytona 500 of the race boat circuit that at one time drew huge crowds to the town. In those days, when the races were first known as the Hennessey Offshore Grand Prix and then the Benihana grand prix, the town held a week-long list of festivities, including a parade of boats through town. That's also when the event attracted more than 100 boats and celebrity racers such as Don Johnson and Kurt Russell helped draw even larger crowds. The festivities kick off May 19 with a "Meet the Racers" charity event at the Wharfside restaurant.-
